Fight with Indians.

Fire Near Fort Lafayette.

NEW YORK, 2d.

The following specials from the Indian Territory are published: In the Field, Indian Territory, Nov. 28th [via Hays City, Dec 1].

The Cheyenne village of Black Kettle was captured yesterduy morning at day light, by the 7th Cavalry Regiment, under Gen. Custer, on the North Fork of the Wachita River; 15 were killed and their bodies left in our possession, and 53 taken prisoners.

An immense amount of property was captured and destroyed, consisting of 51 lodges, nearly 1,000 horses and mules. arms, ammunition, horse equipments, robes, provisio, s, &c.

Capt Lewis Hamilton was killed in first charge; Brevet Lt-Col Barnitz was severely if not mortally wounded; Maj Elliott is missing. 1 man of the 7th was killed, and 14 wounded.

The tribe is badly crippled. The Indians, including men and boys, fought with great desperation under cover of bushes an a grass when driven out of the village. Many of the wounded escaped.

The victory is complete, and will be a wholesome lesson to the Cheyennes.

On the 23d November, before daylight, in the midst of a violent snow storm, Gen Custer, with 11 companies of the 7th U. S. cavalry, left this point under orders to move against hostile savages, in the direction of the Wachita River and Mountains, and attack them wherever found. After a severe march of five days, Gen Custer struck a village of hostile Indians, consisting of 47 lodges of Black Kettles and Cheyennes, 2 lodges of Arapahoes, and 2 lodges of Sioux. These were afterwards reinforced by the

The attack commenced on the morning of the 27th and lasted till afternoon, resulting in the entire destruction of the village. There were 103 warriors killed. The capture of supplies is immense. The casualties are : Maj-Gen L H Ei-
